Free transport for children over the summer

The UK government has announced a scheme to provide free bus travel for children aged five to 15 during the summer months. This initiative, part of the 'Great British Summer Savings' scheme, aims to ease the financial burden on families and encourage the use of public transport. Here are the key details of the scheme:

- Eligibility: Every child aged five to 15 in England will benefit from free bus travel on participating local buses throughout August.
- No Registration Required: Families do not need to register for the free bus travel, making it a simple and cost-effective solution for summer travel.
- Unlimited Journeys: The scheme offers unlimited journeys, ensuring that families can travel as often as they need without additional costs.
- No Cost to Families: The free bus travel is at no cost to families, providing a significant financial relief during the school holidays.
- Duration: The scheme runs from August 1 to August 31, 2026, across participating local bus services in England.

This initiative is part of a broader effort by the government to support families and businesses during the summer, including measures to cut energy bills, protect motorists, and crack down on unfair profiteering. The free bus travel for children is expected to save families a considerable amount of money, making it a valuable resource for summer travel.
